Play, create and explore with a themed drama workshop

Together, we'll fine-tune our wizardry by casting spells and drinking magic potions that allow us to transform into enchanted creatures of all shapes and sizes. We'll also create mystical tales of adventure wherein students will be transported to a magical world where anything is possible. Our experienced teaching artists will use group theatre games that encourage storytelling, cooperation, spontaneity and physical activity in a fast-paced format.

On the final day of class, parents will be invited to a behind-the-scenes look at our drama workshop games and activities.

About Drama Explorer

How do you know if you like something unless you try it? We give students a chance to explore dramatic play and acting with a new theme every session. Past themes include: Circus, Dream Factory, Fairytales, Heroes & Villains and Time Travel.

About NCTC

For over 35 years, New Conservatory Theatre Center has provided our San Francisco community with after school drama classes, in-school residencies and performance training at our Civic Center/Hayes Valley facility. We also invite students to enjoy FREE Family Matinee performances and YouthAware Touring productions throughout SFUSD. Click here to learn more about our programming: <http://www.nctcsf.org/classes>

Our Teaching Artists & Philosophy

Our professional teaching artists are just that... artists who teach. They are active in the theatre world as performers, directors or playwrights and have degrees in Theatre or Education. Regular professional development and training keep our staff at the top of their game.

Ensemble-based work is at the heart of training at NCTC. Our concentration is on the "whole kid" and helping them develop life skills that guide them in and out of the theatre world.
