SUPERHERO SATURDAY!

Mark your calendars today for the most fun you'll have all spring. Lakeshore will be hosting a superhero-themed carnival on the school campus complete with

- Action-packed games including the "Dunk a Villain" dunking booth
- Thrilling rides and amazing activities such "make a cape"
- Epic entertainment from the community and our own talented students
- Fantastic food
- And... the opportunity to equip your little hero or heroine with gear from the silent auction.

Not just commercial heroes!

In keeping with our diverse culture, we want to include heroes from all across the world. To share stories, information about characters or ideas about how to incorporate these into our carnival, email volunteer@lakeshoreelementary.org.

We need your help to make this spectacular.

More information about specific roles will be forthcoming but if you'd like to help with the initial planning, email volunteer@lakeshoreelementary.org.

Student's Corner

If the wind is blowing east, which way would a pine tree's leaves blow?

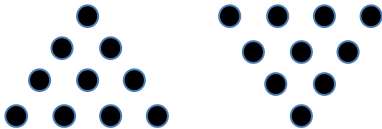

Can you draw this tent using only one line and without going over the same line twice? If you're having trouble, starting from a different spot – or use the hint below.

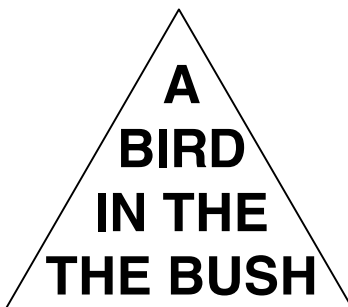

(Hint: start at the bottom corner)

Can you change the pyramid of coins on the left into the one on the right by moving only THREE coins?

Read this sentence aloud THREE times fast:

Answers:

Pine trees don't have leaves, but their needles would blow east.

There are a couple of ways to draw the tent. Here's one:

Leave the seven center coins alone and move the three corner coins like this:

It says: A BIRD IN THE THE BUSH. Did you say "THE" twice?
